STUDENT LIFE MEANS . . .

There are always countless cards to be filled out as one freshman soon learns.

ENTERING A NEW PHASE

No, this is not a key to the Playboy Club.

All supplies must be inspected to prevent cluttering up the dorm.

Where do you expect to find room for all of this?

RECEIVING EXTRA HELP

It seems as if the pile will never decrease.

At least that's one way to bring everything.

WAITING FOR THAT SPECIAL MOMENT

When is that speaker going to finish?

At all times hold on securely to the mortar board.

Now they are officially seniors.

I told the man he measured my head too small.

SECURING THE FUTURE

Smile now, graduation has never been so close.

Hurry up before I fall asleep.

Mary Ann Price sings for the Big Sister-Little Sister party.

A funny thing happened on the way here, I forgot my lines.

PRESENTING A PARTICULAR TALENT

The trouble with music today is that it's too loud.

I wish I knew how to play this.

EXCELLING IN A UNIQUE FIELD

One more time and I'm liable to hit him with the tuba.

I wonder what these buttons are for.

The Lettermen proved to be very versatile.

BEING ENTERTAINED

Everyone was invited to dance in the aisles at the Platters' Concert.

The Korean Children's concert was a blending of voices and charm.

In what quarter is the hockey game?

ATTENDING A SPORTS EVENT

Maybe if I stand here, I won't have to play.

Remember girls, only two orange slices each.

Now with just a slight turn, I can produce music.

How did they teach us to braid at summer camp?

DEPENDING ON OTHERS

Even if it is February, I still might get a tan.

Working on the floor has certain advantages.

I wonder if I can start with Junior courses.

WORKING INDEPENDENTLY

All the easy teachers have already been taken.

UTILIZING TOOLS . . .

I'm sorry but this is not the desk for complaints.

Her answer looks better than mine.

FOR LEARNING

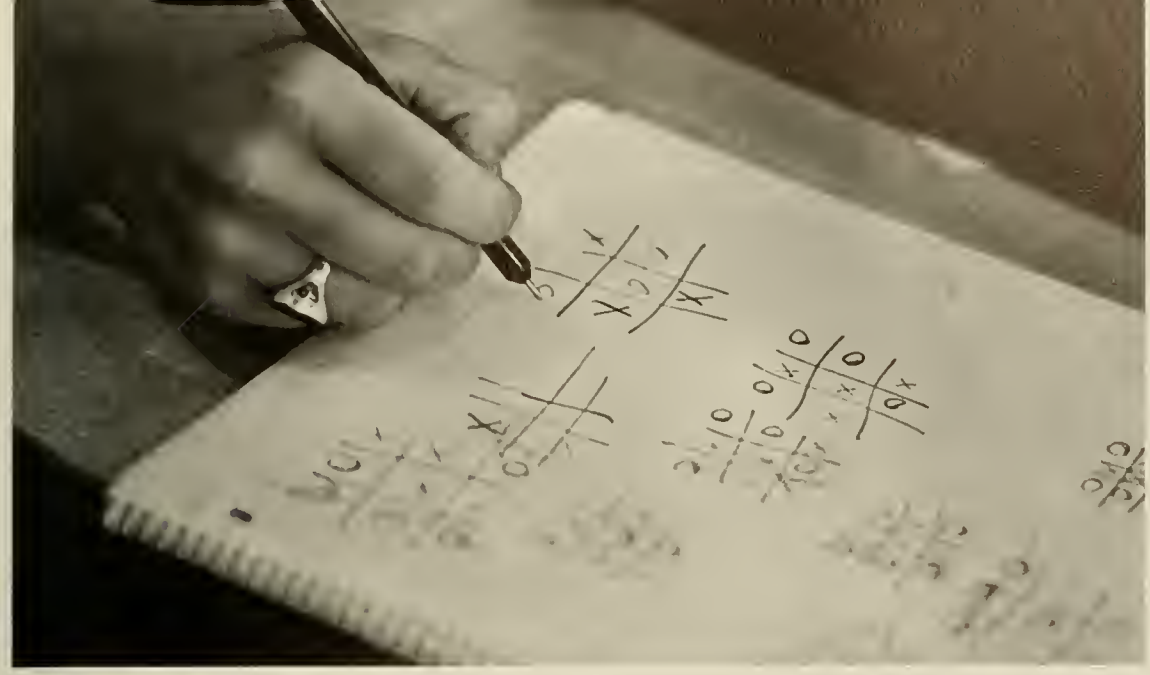
If you can understand this, then you'll have no



At least this is one game I can win.

RECORDING THOUGHTS

The pencil tastes better than lunch.

problem with physics.

Maybe if I pray hard enough I'll pass.

Have you ever tried to read with your eyes closed?

SPENDING QUIET HOURS

The perfect time to catch up on sleep missed at night.

Reading assignment for English: Start at one end and continue.

I'm tired of holding the same note.

I wonder if all great artists start out this way.

PRACTICING TOWARDS PERFECTION

Maybe he'll never notice me reading this letter.

I think I'll switch to the FM station.

Memorize every slide and it's an easy A.

DEVELOPING A BROAD EDUCATION

All I ever see is my eyelash.

It's a dog's life.

All you ever do is write letters.

RELAXING OCCASIONALLY

This elevator never goes anywhere exciting.

Nothing will stop the progress of getting to classes, not even snow.

HURRYING FROM CLASS TO CLASS

When the day is done, night classes are only beginning.

Did anyone see my suitcase?

I know it's around here somewhere.

What's it doing in the group for Richmond?

LOOKING FORWARD TO VACATIONS

Are you sure this bus goes to South Carolina?

As the Senior Class of 1969 begins the journey down the path of life, the many happy memories of the past four fruitful years spent at Madison College are foremost in our minds.

One event which particularly stirs our memory is the Senior Class Weekend held last fall. This traditional happening began with a series of skits in which the unifying theme was "The Graduate." The program proved quite entertaining and appropriate. Other activities of this exciting weekend included a banquet, a dance with entertainment provided by The Epitome, and finally a concert sponsored by our sister class of 1971.

The senior Class Weekend is just one of many memorable events of the past four years. Certainly as we travel our separate ways, we shall encounter more joyful and memorable experiences. However, the years spent at Madison will always have a special place in our hearts, and we shall never forget the happy times experienced here.

JUNIOR CLASS

In Madison tradition, the Junior Class began another hectic but rewarding year by welcoming the Class of 1972, our sister class. At the same time we welcomed many new members to our own class, and everyone was soon caught up in the excitement which mounted in anticipation of the arrival of class rings. Plans were made for a lunar excursion, "Fly Me to the Moon," which occurred late in November. Orbiting this theme, class day and ring dance were the features of a weekend which highlighted the year for the Class of 1970.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

With the Class of 1971, a new tradition began—an eventful four-day celebration highlighted the class's events instead of the familiar "Class Day" given by the majority of the classes.

This change enabled the Class of 1971 to enjoy a wide variety of organized entertainment. All of the functions reflected the theme of "Carousel". The festivities began with the class skit, followed by a banquet the next evening. The most successful aspect of the weekend was the semi-formal dance held on Saturday night, with the Classics IV providing entertainment. A picnic on Sunday afternoon marked the final event of the weekend. The success of these events has encouraged the continuation of the weekend celebration in place of the well-known "Class Day" festivities.

Sisterhood was a very active part of the Alpha Gam's year. Thirteen of the Gamma Lambda's at Longwood came to the campus to share in the initiation activities of the sorority. They also attended the Feast of Roses Banquet, and the Panhellenic Picnic.

The Gamma Mu's also plan to get together with Longwood and University of Maryland chapters.

The Beta Epsilon chapter of Alpha Sigma Alpha began it's year by hearing that Lee Evaul, their delegate to the National Convention in St. Louis, had brought back the National Officers Efficiency Award. This award, plus the Panhellenic Scholarship Cup won last spring gives extra incentive for the chapter to do well in all its activities. Since the Scholarship Cup has been won three times by Beta Epsilon, the sorority now gets to keep the award and display it in the chapter room.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

Founded 1901, Richmond College...Purple and Gold...Violet, Dark Red Rose

On November 1, 1968, the members of the local fraternity, Phi Alpha Epsilon, replaced that name in favor of national affiliation with Sigma Phi Epsilon. This was of significant importance in that it was only the eighth group in Virginia to petition for colony status. Since the colony recognition of Sig Ep, the members have worked diligently to fulfill the responsibility of the fraternity toward improving relations with the college and local community. The work displayed for the Tams Concert, Greek Keg Party and mixers shows the Virtue, diligence, and brotherly love that the SPE's strive to uphold.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS

Rallies, mixers, banquets, and conventions created an air of excitement and patriotism for enthusiastic Young Democrats. Members sought to further interest and activity in the Democratic Party as well as in the government. Club effort and participation progressed with the selection of Kathi Dugan, Virginia State Collegiate Secretary, to the state and national Democratic convention.

1968, an election year, added a new dimension to the Young Republicans nation-wide, state-wide, and campus-wide. Miami's Republican Convention was the site where Debbie Tanner and Diane Sateridy gathered up bundles of enthusiasm to bring back to Madison. Using this spirit, the campus Nixon-Agnew supporters "spread the word" through car rallies, door-to-door campaigning, and conventions - all in anticipation of November 5.

Madison College's soccer team made its debut in the Virginia Intercollegiate Soccer Association by playing a seven match schedule. The team was built around Mike Frye, Jim Fleming, and Jim Robinson, who were the only members with previous high school playing experience. This lack of experience was evident as shown by the results of the first four matches. Madison gave up an average of eight goals per match while being held scoreless. The team finally managed to score four times in their sixth match, but this was only good enough to tie Hampden-Sydney.

The highlight of the season was the fine play of the goalie, Jim Fleming. Jim made 128 saves in seven matches, and this performance earned him Honorable Mention on the All State Soccer Team. Coach Rader started seven freshmen and four sophomores throughout the season, therefore MC will be able to field an all veteran team next fall. The members of the team chose Michael Frye, their leading scorer, and Jim Fleming as honorary co-captains for the team.

The outstanding performance of goalie Jim Fleming earned him Honorable Mention on the All State Soccer Team.

1969 Bluestone - In Retrospect

For most of you, a yearbook is little more than a collection of pictures taken throughout the school year. Perhaps you were inconvienced when a picture was made, or you didn't receive your proofs, or perhaps even your picture was omitted. In these cases and others, you may tend to look upon the yearbook staff as inefficient and uncaring.

Upon completion of this book, as well as upon leaving office, I only ask that you look beyond what seems apparent. There are few people left on our campus who are willing to make the sacrafices which are necessary in publishing a book such as this. These few people must, therefore, tackle a job which requires many people. In doing so, they no longer have time for their friends, for studying, or for anything which most college students take for granted. Instead, they spend their time in such activities as scheduling pictures, drawing layouts, attending meetings, solving other people's problems, and "pulling all-nighters" in order to meet a deadline. Yet, for the most part, they receive little cooperation and much criticism from the faculty, administration, and their fellow students. Unless we do our part to change this situation, the time will come when Madison ceases to have a yearbook.

There are many people I would like to thank for the ways in which they have helped this year. Barry has been of special help throughout the year, not only because of her creativity, but even more because of her understanding and enthusiasm. Betty, Cindy, Jeanne, Hazel, and Nan—all on my staff—have done an excellent job even though they were forced to carry an extra-heavy yearbook load. Others have helped by giving me personal encouragement, as well as by working — especially my family, Terrie, Minna, Barbie, Gail, Newt, Tut, Karen, and Cookie.

The 1969 Bluestone was published by Hunter Publishing Company, Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Special thanks are extended to its representatives, Mr. Jim Ellis and Mr. Charles Perry, for their expert guidance and understanding. The cover was produced by S.K. Smith. Class portraits were taken by Victor O'Neill Studios, New York City. Their representative, Mr. Tom Young, has been most helpful to us. Almost all of the candid photography is the result of the outstanding ability of Mr. Allen Litten, of Harrisonburg.

For each of you, the yearbook has a different meaning. We who have both loved it and endured it, hope that it will be special to you.

Emily V. Hardy
Editor, 1969 Bluestone
